Once Upon a Time

Once upon a time lived a boy called Jack,
who went to the market and soon came back.
He climbed to the top of the mighty stalk,
to the castle where a giant did walk.

Once upon a time lived a gingerbread man,
who jumped right out of an oven pan.
To run as fast and as far as he could,
through the farm and the deep, dark wood.

Once upon a time lived Hansel and Gretel,
who got lost in the forest of thorns and nettles.
They found a house made of sweets and cake -
every sweet treat a baker could make.
